

Dear Erhart,

From the very first minute we arrived in Turkey you took such great care of us. Jetlagged, dazed, and confused, you were on a cell phone guiding us through the lost luggage process. Your clothing helped us through the first days with reduced odor, a benefit to us all!

Throughout our four days in Cappadocia you shared your extensive knowledge of history, culture and religion, bringing to life the fascinating sights of this region. We also appreciated your sharing facts and thoughts about modern life in Turkey.

Many, many thanks for all that you've done to make this trip so wonderful. Inviting us over for an authentic dinner really went above and beyond. Thank you for opening your home to us. We hope ~~you~~ we can return the favor in D.C. one day!

Yours Truly,

Bob & Cara Weiman
